

ISLE OF PINES IS CUBAN LAND

Decision Of United States Supreme Court On This Important Question Given.

SETTLES LONG STANDING DISPUTE

Another Decision Affects The Criminals Extradited From Canada For One Crime And Locked Up
For Another.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Washington, D. C., April 8.—Two important decisions were handed down this morning by the United States Supreme court. One was relative to the Isle of Pines situation, and the other to the extradition of criminals on one charge and conviction on another. Both these decisions are far-reaching in their scope.

The Isle of Pines
In the suit of Edward J. Pearcey versus Nevada N. Stranahan, collector of the port of New York, the question as to the ownership of the Isle of Pines was decided. The court held that the Isle of Pines was an integral part of the Republic of Cuba. The contention had been raised that this island was part of the United States, not having been included in the Cuban treaty with Spain.

and United States or when the United States turned the island over to the Cuban republic.

Affects Many
This decision will affect many Americans who have gone to the Isle of Pines under the supposition it was not a part of the Cuban republic. Several petitions have been made to congress and attempts have been made to have it declared a part of the United States. The supreme court decision sustains the Platt treaty.

Fugitive from Justice
The decision of the supreme court to the effect that a fugitive from justice, extradited from Canada on one charge can not be imprisoned on another charge was made. It is far-reaching in its scope and may affect several prominent criminals recently brought to this country for trial.

POST CARDS MAY BE USED TO WRITE ON

Distinction Between Post and Postal Cards Is Made Clear by the Government.

Under a new ruling of the post-office department that went into effect March 1, the sender of "post" cards through the mail can write on half of the front side of this form of mail matter, while the old rule regarding postal cards will continue to apply to postals and only the address can be inserted on the front of them. Although there is some similarity between "post" cards and "postals," there is a difference in the rule concerning them, and it will be observed strictly by the postal authorities. The former include the souvenir cards, which are now flooding the mails, they are "post" cards, not "postal" cards. Cards furnished by Uncle Sam with the one-cent stamp printed on the card are the only "postal" cards. The word "post" is printed on the postal cards. All cards to which you affix your own stamp are "post" cards.

During the last few days of the session of congress, house bill 10035 was passed, taking with it a postoffice rule which is of much interest, that in the future special delivery stamps are not to be necessary but that twelve cents worth of stamps of any kind on a letter are to carry a letter through as special. This law has not gone into effect, but will soon as the postoffice department at Washington can get the rule into shape for announcement. When this law goes into effect, a person can put any sort of stamps on the letter. A ten-cent stamp and a two-cent stamp will carry the letter through in a hurry. So will two five-cent stamps and a two-cent stamp, or four three-cent stamps, reaching clear across the top of the envelope of ordinary size, will be accepted. If some person has a desire to make a special lot of trouble for the postman, he may put a rim of twelve one-cent stamps around the envelope. Twelve cents in postage is all that Uncle Sam wants, and he don't care how he gets it.

DELMAS BEGAN ADDRESS IN BEHALF OF THAW IN THE CLOSING ARGUMENT

Judge Decides To Have The Trial Go On And Defense Scores Another Victory.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

New York, April 8.—With the opening of the Thaw trial today District Attorney Jerome said he could only ask the court formally not to confirm the report of the commission in London. Justice Fitzgerald overruled the motion and ordered the trial to proceed. Dr. Allan McLane Hamilton was called as witness but was excused without a question being put. The defense then rested, as did the state. Justice Fitzgerald ordered the jury locked up from now on and the court took recess until two this afternoon when Delmas began his argument for the defense.

Delmas said he might conclude his speech tonight. If he does so, Jerome will speak tomorrow. If Delmas should not finish until tomorrow, however, Jerome will not begin his address until Wednesday morning. Justice Fitzgerald is expected to charge the jury the same day Jerome closes and the end of the case may come by Wednesday night.

Delmas began his address to the jury at 2:09 by quoting from a statement by Jerome when he said: "We have no right to be here trying this man if the real facts were known." Delmas said he would ask for the acquittal of Thaw on the written law of the state of New York. He then gave a resume of Evelyn Nesbit Thaw's life.

Delmas declared White had committed a felony in his assault upon Evelyn Nesbit. When Delmas came to the point where he argued as to the truthfulness of Evelyn's story on the witness stand, he paid a glowing tribute to Jerome, calling him a master mind, but added that even though gifted beyond the average mind, he could not shake the testimony of Evelyn Nesbit Thaw. Delmas declared the large sums paid by White to Mrs. Nesbit proved he had ruined her daughter. He denounced Mrs. Nesbit as an unnatural mother, who had given the district attorney a statement to torture the wounded soul of her daughter.

Delmas quoted at length from Thaw's letters to Longfellow from Paris in 1903, which he claimed proved that Evelyn Thaw had told him her story. Mr. Jerome was absent from the room while Delmas was making his final plea. His assistant, Gowan, took notes of the speech. When Delmas touched upon Thaw's love for Evelyn one of the jurors was seen to wipe his eyes.

SUPREME COURT MEETS TO PASS ON LIABILITY ACT

Constitutionality Of Recent Legislation Being Tested At Instance Of President Roosevelt.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Washington, D. C., April 8.—The United States supreme court reconvened today after a two weeks' recess. Several cases of more than ordinary importance are on the calendar for early hearing. Among the number is the case of the United States against Heinzen & Company, involving the tariff on articles imported into the Philippine islands from the United States between April, 1899, and November, 1901. This is the last of the Philippine test cases.

A case of more general interest and importance is that of Damselford Howard against the Illinois Central railroad, involving the constitutionality of the railroad employers' liability act, passed at the last session of congress. This case was tried by the United States circuit court for the western district of Tennessee, which held the first section of the act, abolishing the fellow servant rule, to be unconstitutional.

The case is considered to be of great importance, not only because of the number of similar cases that have arisen and will arise but because of the principle involved. When the United States district court held the act invalid because of its unconstitutionality President Roosevelt at once took up the matter and decided to take the question to the highest court with a view of having the decision reversed. Only once before, it is said, in the history of the department of justice has similar action been taken by the administration.

WISCONSIN WEATHER FORECAST

Generally fair tonight and Tuesday;
warmer Tuesday.

TIME TO REST

The flurry in Wall street, which occurred March 14th, would have resulted in a panic, in ordinary times, for it was the culmination of a steady decline in stocks which aggregated 40 per cent in three months.

But no panic resulted, and no serious failures were recorded. The financial world was sharply reminded of the fact that it was time to go slower and if necessary "take a rest."

This is the first time in the history of the nation, when an era of long continued prosperity has not been followed by a season of depression brought about by natural causes, and the experience is so unique that the business world is at a loss to know how to handle it.

Money was never more plenty, and yet never in more active demand for legitimate purposes. From the small manufacturer, to the large corporation the call for money is active and persistent.

It is no longer a question of selling the goods, but of getting the goods to sell. Factories, in many lines, are months behind their orders; and the desire to enlarge, and increase facilities, is both commendable and legitimate.

This large output of goods, in every line, demands of the railroads and transportation companies better equipment which money alone can supply, and so all along the line is the call for more capital.

It is the most difficult thing in the world for energetic and enterprising men to call a halt, in such times as these. They have weathered reverses, and worked persistently to build up a business, and they are in duty bound to take care of it, when their efforts are rewarded.

Yet today retrenchment is necessary, and so railroad enterprises are abandoned and many fields of industry find it necessary to curb ambition.

Much has been said about the concentration of wealth, and Wall street is supposed to be the hub of the universe when money is considered, but Wall street is as helpless as a baby, and the rates of interest prevailing much of the time in this great money center would bankrupt any other community.

The wealth of the nation as well as its great reservoir of credit, is with the masses, and the reason why the railroads and many other great enterprises are handicapped today is because the money of the masses is timid, and while it has not yet sought the seclusion of the stock exchange, it is safely reposing in bank vaults and other places of security.

The railway stocks of the country are in the hands of half a million stockholders. The new stocks, ready to be issued for betterments and improvements, if sold at all, must be sold to the masses. But railroads especially are under the ban today, and while the companies were never more prosperous, yet this class of securities are regarded with suspicion. As a result many projected railway enterprises will take a rest, and many other lines will be satisfied to take what comes to them.

Conditions are peculiar, and agitation and reform legislation are prominent factors. Many states are securing a 2-cent passenger fare, with but little regard to consequences. The fact is, generally overlooked that in the end money must pay the freight, which in the final analysis, always means the consumer.

This is true, not only on the transportation question, but all others as well. An eight-hour workday, so popular just now, means additional cost to every line of goods to be paid by the consumer.

There are always two sides to a question and one of them is frequently overlooked. If railroads continue to run, and factories continue to do business, the consuming public must stand behind them and expect to pay the freight.

WHAT SHONTS PROPOSES

The Wall Street Journal thus discusses President Shonts' program:

"That is a cheering program of transit reform which President Shonts of the Interborough system has made public. If Mr. Shonts can put his ideas into practical effect, he will achieve a reputation as great as that of building the Panama canal, and he will link his name with that of Colonel Waring in the hearts of New York."

"It makes one almost gasp with wonder to think of such improvements as a seat for every passenger, side entrances on the subway cars, wider platforms, better control of street traffic, and the like."

"Every suggestion along these lines in the past has been met by the statement from high officials of the street railroads that they were impossible in the city of New York owing to the character of our population, to the extraordinary hurry of our people and to their impatience of restraint, as well as on account of the remarkable increase in the population year by year—which makes every increase in transportation facilities seem inadequate from the moment of its completion.

"But when Columbus was told that it was impossible to stand an egg on end he forthwith proceeded to show the doubters how it could be done. It may be that Mr. Shonts is the Columbus of rapid transit discoveries and miracles in the city of New York. Let us hope so."

Mr. Shonts is a man of recognized ability and when President Roosevelt placed him at the head of the Panama commission, he was said to be the right man for the place.

The task was too great for him, and he resigned to accept the position which he now holds in New York. To people who are familiar with the great subway system, where passengers are packed like sardines, and handled like cattle, it is apparent that the enthusiastic president will find plenty of business to command attention.

How to relieve the congestion of Greater New York is more of a problem than building the Panama canal, and if Mr. Shonts proves equal to the emergency his name and fame will live for many generations.

President Roosevelt may decide to be a candidate to succeed himself; who knows? His recent controversy with Harrison and the suspicion that a combination is forming to defeat his policies may influence him to take up the big stick and stay by the ship. Like Secretary Garfield, he is carrying a big load.

If the new council will devote a little time to intelligent thought on the city streets, it will make a record along the line of practical reform. The taxpayers are entitled to something for the investment, and good streets will add materially to the welfare of the city.

If Hearst wins out on half his law suits in Chicago, he can afford to make another trip. The republicans will be glad to see him. He was the best drawing card in the campaign.

Senator Hatten is said to be the father of the 2 1/2-cent Wisconsin railway law. It is creditable, to say the least, and better for all concerned than a 2-cent flat rate.

The short term for senator is not of vital importance and "Uncle Ike" should be remembered. He has waited long and patiently, and paid the bills with more or less cheerfulness.

If our wants were regulated by our needs, everybody would have a bank account, and the distribution of property would no longer be a paramount question.

The city of Butte, Montana, was without a paper for six weeks, the three offices suspending publication on account of labor troubles.

Any man may be a capitalist who will. The art of saving is more difficult than the ability to earn, but it may be acquired.

PRESS COMMENT

World Hung Breathless on Issue.
Chicago Tribune: According to the bankers the money will come out of its various hiding places and go into channels of trade and industry, now that Chicago has quit chasing wild geese and settled down to business.

Muscle's the Thing!
New York World: What matters it what the mollycoddlers among the American Rhodes scholars at Oxford are doing in scholarship? The winning of the high and broad jumps and the hammer-throwing event by American students is the main thing.

Home Product Good Enough.
Green Bay Gazette: There is some talk of using a southern stone for the Wisconsin state capitol. The ideas of the builders are becoming unduly exalted. There is plenty of fine building stone in the state and the people want nothing better than the best that Wisconsin can produce.

Trailing Chicago V. Iconoclasts.
Exchange: Prof. Ross of the University of Wisconsin declares that man is not the weaker but the pursued in life, laying the blame for the constant pursuit on the fair sex. Mr. Ross by promulgating this and his small family theory evidently has in mind the surpassing of several late freak doctrines on the order of trial marriage and others.

Western Union Generosity.
Fond du Lac Commonwealth: The Western Union Telegraph company which granted an increase of wages to its operators amounting to 10 per cent, effective April 1, has exhibited its characteristic thrift by advancing the rates on messages some 25 per cent. Thus while the company gets the credit for sharing its prosperity with its employees, the patrons are called on to foot the bills.

Lecturing the Governor.
Marquette Eagle-Star: The voters of Wisconsin elected Mr. Davidson governor by a tremendous majority, believing that he was entitled to the position and would make a worthy executive. He has only served a short time of his term and no emergency has arisen to make his going to Washington as senator a necessity. It is a dangerous precedent to assume that because popular favor has elected a man to the governorship that there is a popular demand for his immediate election to some other and higher office. Governor Davidson was elected governor and should serve his term.

Methodism's Heresy Case.
Madison Journal: Heresy hunting in the evangelical churches of this country has not been so common during the past ten years as it was the preceding ten or fifteen years, but there is still enough of it to keep the theologians stirred up. The Methodists are now being agitated over the disciplining of Prof. Mitchell of Boston University. Wherever any considerable number of Methodist clergymen gather Mitchell's case is discussed, and sides are taken at once. Mitchell is accused of placing a too liberal construction upon some of the accepted dogmas of the church.

Shrewd Move by the Regency.
Chicago Chronicle: It is reported that Mrs. Mary Baker G. Eddy in order to circumvent the suit brought in her name by her "next friends" against her entourage has conveyed her entire estate in trust to those persons and that this will probably defeat the suit. Everybody hopes that no wrong may be done to Mrs. Eddy, either by this suit or in any other way, but most people will fail to see how this assignment is on a different footing from any other acts of hers in regard to her property. She was incapable of managing her estate before this assignment she was incapable of making an assignment. This new step, therefore, begs the question.

This Suiter's Thinking.
Milwaukee Free Press: That was a very suggestive demonstration of popular sentiment out in the Grant county, Second Assembly district on Tuesday, and it was a long-headed provision of Assemblyman Roethe that gave the voters the opportunity to express their preferences for senator. The vote was large, showing a degree of interest that was surprising. Mr. Stephenson got a few more votes than all of the other candidates combined.

There is great significance in this result. It is believed to be the index to the popular sentiment of the entire state. There is no "locality" in it at any rate. Mr. Stephenson probably knows as few people in Grant county as in any county in the state. Grant county is in the southwest corner of the state, and he lives in the northeast corner.

Stoughton's Farewell to Drouth.
Stoughton, N.H.: By the close margin of only 31 majority in a total vote of 1152 the voters of this city decreed by their ballots Tuesday that they again want the licensed saloon installed in Stoughton. The will of the majority shall prevail and beginning July 1st next the legalized sale of intoxicating liquors will be resumed. It was a fierce fight, tinged with much bitterness and acrimony, especially on the part of the saloon element, who strenuously exploited their cause by rushing friendly voters to the polls in carriages and hacks—the horses often under full gallop through the main streets. It was indeed a spectacle—ex-saloon keepers and prospective ones, bar tenders and other beneficiaries, demanding the votes for their wholly cause.

The saloons have won, but let them remember this—their victory is but a transitory one. The battle against them and their business—the crusade for a better and cleaner Stoughton—the fight for a permanent and an eternal elimination of the legalized liquor traffic from its little city will be kept up.

Vigilance must not be relaxed. The Anti-Saloon League must not go out of business. KEEP UP THE FIGHT.

POLITICS AND POLITICIANS.

The action of Gen. Granville M. Dodge in leaving New York and returning to his old home in Iowa has led to a rumor that he may be a candidate to succeed William B. Allison in the United States senate.

A straw vote taken among the republicans of the Massachusetts legislature on their choice for the presidential nomination resulted as follows: Roosevelt, 128; Crane, 25; Taft, 11; Root, 7; Fairbanks, Hughes and Guild, each one.

Three democratic candidates for governor of the new state of Oklahoma are now in the race: C. N. Haskell of Muskogee, Lee Cruise of Ardmore and J. A. Kelso of Enid. Either Haskell or Cruise is expected to secure the nomination at the approaching primary.

United States Senator Kittredge of South Dakota is to be a candidate for re-election next year and he will be opposed by Governor Coo I. Crawford, leader of the insurgents. Governor Crawford has not yet announced his candidacy, but he is expected to do so at an early date.

It is said that William Allen White, the Emporia editor, is forming the newspapers of Kansas into a syndicate to fight the corporations, and that already about one hundred of them have formally agreed to conduct their reform campaign on lines laid down by Mr. White.

The republican leaders in New York city declare that if Hearst's independence League puts a full ticket in the field this fall it will help the republican candidates. The election in November will be for one justice of the supreme court, a sheriff, members of the assembly and members of the board of aldermen—almost as important to the politicians as the mayoralty year.

Admiral Schley declares he does not want the democratic nomination for vice-president, for which some of the papers have mentioned him as a possibility.

United States Senator Gamble of South Dakota says his state is strong for President Roosevelt for another term.

It is announced that Congressman Stephen Brundidge of the second district of Arkansas will be a candidate for United States senator against Senator James P. Clarke, whose term will expire in 1909.

On Jefferson's birthday three celebrations will be held in New York city. One is to be addressed by Judge Parker, the second by Mr. Bryan, and the third by Mr. Hearst.

Lee Cruise of Ardmore, who is one of the leaders in the race for the democratic gubernatorial nomination in Oklahoma, is a prominent banker and business man and a man of affairs in the Chickasaw Nation.

William R. Hearst is now charged by the republican managers in Chicago with openly attempting to secure personal control of the democratic organization in Cook county. His object, it is claimed, was to capture the Illinois delegation to the democratic national convention next summer.

The action of the Kentucky court of appeals in declaring unconstitutional the "redistricting" act of 1906 will take from the democrats seven members of the legislature which it was intended to gain by the gerrymander, and will render more doubtful the election of Governor J. C. W. Beckham to the United States senate.

Augustus W. Owens, who recently died at Norfolk, Va., was the author of the "Jim Crow" bill which passed the North Carolina legislature some years ago.

Former Senator Pettigrew of South Dakota is said to have vastly increased his wealth during the past year or two in stock speculation in New York.

Secretary of War Taft is planning to take a trip west about the middle of June to fill several speaking engagements in Kansas and Nebraska. He will also deliver commencement addresses in Iowa and Minnesota.

From now on much will be heard about favorite sons. In this respect the republicans seem to be much better off than the democrats. Missouri has decided to present Mr. Warner, its first republican senator in a generation. Senator Crane is mentioned as the favorite son of Massachusetts and Senator Knox is proposed for a similar honor in Pennsylvania. When the time is ripe it is not improbable that New York will come forward with Governor Hughes as an available presidential candidate.

Though the national work of electing delegates to the next democratic national convention will not begin for almost a year, the friends of William J. Bryan are already organizing all over the country to promote his nomination as the candidate for president. The most active agent in this connection appears to be the Commercial Travellers' Anti-Trust League, which is distinctively a Bryan organization.

There will be more than one thousand delegates in the next democratic national convention, if all the territories, including Alaska and Porto Rico, are allowed increased representation, and probably 670 will be necessary to nominate.

OLD COUNCIL'S LAST MEETING APRIL 15

Terms of Old Officers Expire at Twelve O'Clock That Evening.

At twelve o'clock Monday evening, April 15, the term of every non-holding city officer in Janesville expires. The last meeting of the old council is to be held that evening and should the session be protracted beyond the hour of midnight the newly elected might with perfect right insist upon taking their chairs. Nothing of the kind, of course, is likely to occur. The old council will finish up its business and adjourn sine die, and a day or two later Mayor Elect Heddlow will probably call a meeting for the purpose of organizing, electing the assessors, and transacting other business. The assessors of Rock county are all expected to attend a county meeting which is to be held this month and it is quite necessary that the Janesville representatives should be named at once on that account. Although the incoming officers, under ordinary circumstances, will not take their seats until after April 15, it is expected that their boards will all be filed on that date. The time, when new officers shall assume their duties in this city is definitely fixed with reference to election day, which invariably occurs on the first Tuesday in April, regardless of the first Monday. In this respect Janesville has made wise provision for unforeseen contingencies, than has its neighbor, Chicago.

MAKE FAST TIME ON SKIES.

Remarkable Performance at Annual Norwegian Contest.

As a test of skill, strength and endurance, it would be difficult to beat the long distance ski races in Norway and Sweden. Of these contests the most severe is undoubtedly the 12-mile race over the mountains which opens the great annual "Snow Derby" at Holmenkollen, about four miles from Christiania. In this race, which begins with a steep ascent of 400 to 500 feet, the ski-leaper has to jump cliffs and ravines, to hop over fallen tree trunks, and overcome every kind of obstacle that man can devise, to run down steep declivities, and to make his devious way through mountain forests, until he reaches the goal, triumphant, but utterly exhausted. Considering the arduous nature of these contests, some of the performances are remarkable. Thus, the winner of a recent international speed competition held at Stockholm, covered the course of 40 miles at an average speed of eight and one-half miles an hour.

Willing All Should Know.
There were some very candid persons in the time of George II. In 1731 the Gentleman's Magazine announced: "Married, the Rev. Mr. Roger Waina of York, about 26 years of age, to a Lincolnshire lady, upward of 80, with whom he is to have £8,000 in money, £200 per annum, and a coach-and-four during his life only."

Misbehaving Moon.
Papa had shown Ethel the full moon the night before. It was her first sight and she seemed greatly impressed. Next morning, as soon as she was out of bed, she ran to the window and gazed at the sky for a few moments. The sky was streaked with white clouds. She called out: "O, papa, come quick; the moon has scratched the sky all up."

THE CAT THAT REASONED.

Family Pet Made the Best of Unfamiliar Situation.

"Talking about the ability of animals to reason," said a citizen, "you ought to see my wife's cat. He is a spoiled beast, and in the evening when the family is sitting about the lamp no objection is made to his jumping up on the table and walking around to be petted. But one thing he has learned by dint of several good whippings is that he must never get up on the table when it is spread for a meal. Well, one night recently when we came home from the theater we decided to have a little supper, and my wife spread a cloth over the end of the table. The cat just then entered the room. Walking to the table he was about to jump up when he caught sight of the white cloth over one end. It was plain that he was puzzled. First he went to the end that had no cloth, hesitated, and then returned to look at the end that contained the cloth. My wife and I stood still to watch him, and we had no doubt that he was assuring himself that the cloth was really there. At length he jumped up on a chair by the table so as to survey its top. The half of the table at which he sat was free from the cloth, and finally he very cautiously climbed up on the table and slowly crossing over to the half which contained the cloth, sat down at the very edge."

IS A RELIC OF THE PAST.
Blind Veteran of the Palmy Days of the Circus.

It is not often that one may have his dinner cooked by a woman, who can at the same time give reminiscences of the stage dating back for half a century. She who possesses this remarkable memory is the proprietor of an inn of odd construction which is not far from Greenwood Lake, in New Jersey. She has been identified with practically every phase, not only of the stage, but of the circus. She is now blind, but her mind is so filled with images of the past that she is never depressed. She remembers P. T. Barnum, James A. Bailey and all the old-time kings of the tented field, for in her younger days she was a performer in the ring. The palmy days of minstrelsy she can talk about for the hour, recalling anecdotes of Wambold and Backus and old Billy Emerson. Then by a quick transition she will go to the drama and talk entertainingly of Florence and Jefferson and the elder Sothern. In the meantime she is busy about the details of the dinner and is carrying on the complicated operations as easily as though her sight was as keen and strong as it was in the days of her triumphs of ring and stage.

Painting Under Difficulties.

A. A. Boussoff is a Russian painter of Arctic scenes. To produce his sketches he was compelled to make toilsome and hazardous journeys; during which he could only use charcoal and pastel. It was not possible, save in the spring, to use oil colors, and even then it was hard to mix them, the paints being frozen. "Some of my sketches," he says, "I painted in the open air when it was bitterly cold. I had to put on fur gloves to hold the brush and work with rapid and energetic strokes. There were moments when my hands were frozen and refused service, my brush splitting with the cold. Yet I continued, having the ardent desire to fix on the canvas all those fantastic phenomena of the far north, so full of fascinating charm."

Advice to the Discontented.
Whenever you are tempted to growl against fate or complain of your lot just look around and find out what others are bearing. You will find many men with more brains and better education worse off than you are. Then compare your lot with that of such men and if you don't quit complaining and go in for rejoicing there's something radically wrong with your mental balance. When an obstacle gets in your way don't waste time and energy in complaining about it. If you can't push it out of your path get over it, under it or around it any way you can—and leave the obstacle behind you. The second obstacle will not appear half as big if you get past the first. Spare Moments.

The Change in Surgeons.

"The surgeon of the past was a huge, coarse, red-faced brute, a very terror," said a surgeon of the present. "And no wonder. What type of man but the brute type could cut off legs or saw through the skull while the patient, perfectly conscious, howled and wept? In the past surgery was barred to gentle and refined men. Whatever their interest in anatomy, in medicine, they shunned surgery. They could not endure to operate upon a conscious subject. The advent of anesthetics caused the advent of new men into surgery. Men of delicacy, of sympathy, of imagination—a higher type—took the profession up. That is why surgery is continually advancing now, whereas in the past it stood dead still."

Seventy Years Old.

In one of the Jersey courts of justice, a prisoner was about to be put on trial for a serious offense. Five jurors had been accepted. The clerk called out: "Dennis Rioran." A shriveled old Irishman responded: "Here!" The counsel for the defense looked at him and said: "Challenge?" Why? On account of age. "How old are you?" the attorney asked. "Seventy," replied Dennis in a wheezy, squeaky voice. The venerable judge asked: "My good man, when were you 70?" "Three years ago, yer honor!" shouted Dennis in a voice that could be heard blocks away. "Excused," said the judge; and he had to rap for order.

ALL SPOKE WELL OF THE WORK.

In a little conversation recently a lady said:

"Dr. Richards, a queer coincident occurred a little while ago at a party I attended."

"A number of us ladies were sitting together in the corner and we spoke of having just been to the dentist's."

"Where did you go?" one asked.

"To Dr. Richards," was the reply.

"Why, that's my dentist," said she.

"He does my work too," spoke up a third.

"Mine too," said the fourth.

"And mine," said the fifth.

"And sure enough, all five ladies were patients of Dr. Richards."

"Well," said Dr. Richards, "what did they say as to my work and spoke well of you?"

"And you shouldn't they?"

"For no dentist takes more pains to avoid hurting than he."

"No dentist is more reasonable in his charges."

"Such a combination ought to make people speak well of his work."

"Try him yourself for your next needed dentistry."

FLOUR

Is much like any other food—some brands good, some poor, some indifferent as to quality. The really good flour is not many. The brands that make good bread and whose qualities are the same in every sack, are the kind the housewife ties to.

VICTORY

Fancy Patent Flour is one of the few good flours which can be relied upon. It's the same high quality the year around—makes that delicious wheat bread that has substance and flavor. REAR-END CRASH
IN LOCAL YARDSST. PAUL ROAD FREIGHTS MET IN CURVING CUT.

TWO JUMPED FOR LIVES

For First Time on Record Chicago
Stock Train Caboose Contained No Stockmen.

In the cut just southwest of the intersection of Pearl street, where the Mineral Point line of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul road curves to the west, two freight trains met in a rear-end collision at half-past twelve o'clock this morning. A brakeman on each train was forced to jump for his life and the impact, which demolished two pieces of rolling stock, stopped both trains. The local wrecking crew cleared the main line immediately and the broken cars were later picked up by a steam wrecker.

Signals Not Seen
The trains that figured in the crash were a Racine & Northwestern extra in charge of conductor James J. Foley of this city and the regular Chicago stock in charge of Conductor Carr of Chicago. The former had come in from Davis Junction and was backing down to the new yards. The latter, which came from the north, had been in the yards and was backing out to the main line for Chicago. The rear-end brakemen, one on each train, saw the danger and signaled for stops, but their lanterns were invisible to the head brakemen and the enginesmen, both rains being on the curve and partially hidden by the high bank along the northwest side of right of way.

Escape of James Gregory
James Gregory, Jr., was the brakeman on Foley's train and he jumped for his life just before the collision. The stock train brakeman, a Chicago man, did likewise. No one was injured, but railway men say that it was by one chance in a thousand that several stockmen were not killed. The stock train caboose usually carries several dealers, accompanying stock to Chicago, and last night it was the first time within the memory of many trainmen that there were no stockmen aboard.

Diamond Stud Lost
The stock train caboose was all but completely demolished. One end and an entire side were torn from the platform, while the interior furnishings were broken and remnants piled and twisted in a confused heap. The trainmen's clothes were scattered about and a hundred-dollar diamond stud lost. The body of Foley's caboose, which is an old accommodation passenger coach rebuilt for freight service, was not so badly damaged. One end was stove in and the entire car torn from the tracks. Car Foreman August Abendroth and his assistants were called out at one o'clock and they soon cleared the main line so that traffic was not delayed. The steam wrecker from Milwaukee, the largest owned by the road, arrived here at nine o'clock and by ten minutes of ten had both coach and caboose picked up, put on trucks and in readiness to drag to the shops.

The remains are at Ryan's undertaking rooms and if no one appears on the scene to direct other disposition of them before three o'clock tomorrow afternoon, they will be interred in the potter's field at Oak Hill.

CONSTRUCTION TO BE COMMENCEDNORTHWESTERN ROAD IS READY TO BUILD THE NEW YARDS.

TO EXTEND WATER MAINS

Janesville Water Company Will Furnish Between Two and Three Hundred Thousand Gallons of Water Daily.

W. G. Maxey of Oshkosh, president of the Janesville Water Company and C. S. Jackman of the same company expect to go to Chicago tomorrow to close a contract with the Chicago & Northwestern railroad to furnish them with between two and three hundred thousand gallons of water daily at their new assorting yards south of the city. This is taken to mean that the road contemplates the construction of its yards south of Janesville immediately and that work will be begun as soon as the ground is settled sufficiently for work.

Plans Complete.
The plans for the proposed assorting yards have all been drawn and are ready for the engineers who will have charge of the construction. It is understood they call for a large and commodious engine-house with stalls that will accommodate some thirty-eight or forty engines at one time, a machine shop with equipment suitable for such a house and nearly a mile of sidetracks. It is not probable that the work will be completed this summer but enough of it will be finished by fall that the present congested condition of the West Chicago yards can be lessened.

Means Greater City.
The building of these yards will mean a large addition to Janesville proper. A new addition probably known as South Janesville will spring into existence and the facility of handling freight directly should attract many factories seeking new locations to the city. It will make Janesville a city of importance adding not only to its wealth but to its population.

Looking Up Over.
Already land agents and real estate men from Chicago and the east who keep watch on cities likely to boom have visited Janesville and others have written for information. Several factory owners who are desirous of changing their location have made inquiries regarding land, prices of property and other matters material to the development of their factories. It would seem that Janesville was on the edge of the long expected boom.

800 Net Proceeds: The net proceeds of the Mercy Hospital charity ball benefit given at Assembly hall last week were $800. The use of the ball room was donated by Hayes Bros. and the decorations by the Unique club and Edward Amerpoil, so that the orchestra was the only expense. The Sisters of Mercy are much gratified over the showing.

Two Aged Patients Recovering: Mrs. Susan Russell, who has been critically ill at her home on East Milwaukee street, is now able to sit up in bed and partake of substantial food. Mrs. Janet Aris is recovering from a severe illness at her home on North River street. Mrs. Russell is ninety-one years old and Mrs. Aris has celebrated her ninetieth birthday.

HOME VS. THE CITY

THAT IS WHAT THE HOME-TRADE PROBLEM AMOUNTS TO.

WHICH SIDE ARE YOU ON?

If You Are Sending Your Dollars to the Mail-Order Houses You Are Battling Against the Home Town.

(Copyrighted, by Alfred C. Clark.)

A far seeing, provident business man will not pursue a policy which is subversive of his best interests. He will not destroy his own house, neither will he jeopardize his business. He will observe the golden rule, not only in theory, but in practice, and its practical observation was never more needed than at the present time. Men dream about the "Golden Age" and yet, oftentimes pursue a policy which renders the dawn of that age an impossibility.

Within the horizon of every country resident there exists an evil which is yearly assuming greater proportions. We refer to the mail order business which last year amounted in money sent to Chicago alone to $200,000,000. Two hundred million dollars diverted from its legitimate channel. Two hundred million dollars sent out to enrich those who were not needy, while those at home sorely in need of support were passed by coldly; the local trade was impoverished just to that extent. This golden trade reviving stream, should have remained within its own channel, thus enriching its own soil, and causing desert places to bloom and blossom.

Many unemployed would have been engaged at living wages, households

In a certain rural community, this official order and warning was issued: "Unless bad roads are fixed, there will be no rural delivery at all." It is impossible to put roads in repair without money. This lack of means cannot be traced to poor crops, for the harvest just gathered in has been superabundant. Men cannot support and build up business concerns in distant cities without sacrificing the local good. Is it fair to establish the city by depriving the country of its just support?

Many hold forth the idea that the country is the feeder of the city. This is only partially true. That doctrine has been preached till the text is threadbare. It would be much wiser for men to get a new text and talk and work the country up, then allow the city, including its mail order Octopus, to work its own problems awhile. This, instead of being selfishness, would be the finest order of common sense. A more marked feeling of brotherhood interest is sadly needed in the country on this particular point.

The rural population complain of lack of facilities and conveniences; in order to obviate this, let $200,000,000 this coming year be disbursed among country merchants, among the humble storekeepers, then observe what will follow. The improvements would be greatly ameliorated. A new order would maintain in the home and over the broad acres of the farm and best of all, the social spirit of brotherhood would be felt as never before.

Listen to these thoughtful words from Gov. Folk of Missouri: "We are proud of our splendid cities, and we want to increase in wealth and population, and we also want our country towns to grow. We wish the city merchants to build up, but also desire the country merchants to prosper. I do NOT BELIEVE in the mail

TEN RESCUED FROM A WATERY GRAVE

LIFE SAVERS BRING ASHORE CREW OF SCHOONER.

CAROLINA COAST WRECK

Two Women Among Those Hauled to Safety; In Breeches Buoy—Story of Gulfport's Foundering.

Norfolk, Va., April 8.—Ten persons, two of whom are women, were rescued from death by Capt. Etheridge and his crew of life savers at the Nag's Head (N. C.) station early Sunday, when the four-masted schooner Louis Bossart was blown ashore by the heavy northeast gale that has prevailed along the Virginia-Carolina coast for the past 48 hours.

The schooner was bound from New York, to Wiggins, S. C., for a cargo, and was swept out of her course by the storm. Shortly after midnight she ran on the beach and was discovered in the breakers by a coastguard from the Nag's Head station. On account of the high sea no attempt was made to launch the boats. A line was shot over the schooner and the breeches buoy was run out. When the surfmen pulled it in they were surprised to find a young woman as its passenger. She is the daughter of Capt. Fletcher of the wrecked craft. Then one by one the seven members of the schooner's crew were hauled to safety through the seas, and on the last trip Capt. Fletcher came in.

Reports from Nag's Head over the government's coast wires say the schooner is high on the shore, but seemingly in good condition.

The schooner Laura L. Sprague, Capt. Pierce, of Marblehead, Mass., ran ashore off Crook's Inlet, N. C. Sunday. She is of 364 net tonnage and carries a crew of six or seven men. Late advices are that life savers have succeeded in getting ashore all the schooner's crew.

Barge Lawson Is Adrift.

A wireless message received by an Old Dominion steamer here Sunday from the Standard Oil barge Thomas W. Lawson, announced that vessel to be adrift 14 miles southeast of Cape Lookout, and leaking. The Lawson was said to be the only seven-masted schooner afloat until she was bought by the Standard Oil company and converted into an oil barge. She was being towed up the coast and broke her hawser in the storm two days ago.

Survivors of Foundered Bark.

New York, April 8.—Nearly every vessel that has arrived from southern ports during the last week has brought some story of marine disaster wrought by the cyclone off Hatteras during the last ten days of March. The Bleucher, arriving Sunday from West Indian ports, was no exception. Standing in disconsolate groups about her decks were a luckless 13, which the liner had saved from their foundering bark, the Gulfport, as the vessel was on the verge of going down. The rescue was witnessed by Speaker Joseph G. Cannon and others of the congressional party who were on board the Bleucher.

It was a weary band which the lifeboat of the liner took from the waterlogged wreck. They were near starvation, as for nearly a week they had had nothing to live on except a few water-soaked biscuits. In their every posture was the utter weariness which had come of three days and nights of unceasing and what oft seemed hopeless, toil to keep the wreck afloat.

Rescue Not Difficult.

It was shortly after eight o'clock on the morning of Thursday last that the word went around the Bleucher that the vessel had altered her course to head for a wreck which had been sighted, and that a rescue was about to be attempted. Little difficulty attended the work of rescue. The lifeboat, in charge of Chief Officer Beyer, was lowered from the Bleucher and rowed to the wreck. Into this went Capt. Larsen of the bark and 12 members of his crew.

There was a large black dog on board. The animal had been injured by a falling spar; and as the boat was already too deeply laden for safety, and it was not thought that the dog could survive its injuries, one of the men killed it with a blaying pin and threw the body overboard.

Filipino Student Dies.

Washington, April 8.—Ignacio A. Rosario of Manila, one of the Filipino students who has been receiving an education at the expense of this government, died at the George Washington University hospital in this city Sunday, following an operation.

Train Goes Through a Trestle.

Christopher, Ill., April 8.—A coal train on the Illinois Central went through a trestle three miles west here Sunday, and Engineer George McFarland and Fireman G. B. Jones were dangerously injured.

Rome, April 8.—J. Pierpont Morgan of New York has arrived here for a short visit.

CANNON RETURNS FROM HIS HOLIDAY

SPEAKER PLEASED WITH THE CARIBBEAN TRIP.

WON'T TALK OF HARRIMAN

He and Others of Congressmen McKinley's Party Surprised by Rapid Progress on the Canal.

New York, April 8.—"What kind of a time did you have, Mr. Speaker?" "I had a jolly holiday. I enjoyed every minute and set my watch back every time I thought of it. I never felt better in my life."

With this salutation, Joseph G. Cannon, speaker of the house of representatives, stepped off the steamer Bleucher after a month's pleasure jaunt to the West Indies, Venezuela and Panama.

With several other congressmen, Speaker Cannon has been the guest of Congressman William B. McKinley, of Illinois. The party stopped at all the important points in the West Indies and Venezuela. They spent a few days looking over the work on the Panama canal, and all seemed pleased with what they saw there.

When the ship docked Speaker Cannon held a reception on the pier, the passengers crowding around for a farewell handshake and a parting word. He spent the evening at the Waldorf-Astoria and started for Washington on Monday.

Silent About Harriman.

Speaker Cannon, who refused to say anything on the ship about the controversy between President Roosevelt and Mr. Harriman, gave out this statement Sunday night:

"I have only had time to glance at the papers, and so far as I have read, I have no personal knowledge concerning the controversy."

Congressman James S. Sherman was a member of the party. When asked concerning the campaign contributions of the fall of 1904, Mr. Sherman said:

"Gentlemen, I am now giving a correct imitation of a sphinx."

Pleased With Canal's Progress.

Of the work on the canal Speaker Cannon said:

"I was mighty well pleased and agreeably surprised, as was every member of our party, with the progress of the Panama canal. It is a mere question of work, which is being done rapidly under a splendid system. If I was paying for the job myself I would slap the boys on the back and say: 'Hurry along and get the dirt out.'"

The speaker was asked if he would not comment on some other phases of the recent news. Answering all the questions, he said: "I have been absent from the United States since the adjournment of congress on March 4, and have been literally with-out news as to the events that have occurred since that time. I am informed that there have been great fluctuations in prices of securities, and am gratified that the situation is changing for the better. I hope, and believe that nothing will occur to interfere with production and commerce in the broadest sense."

Has Confidence in People.

"I feel assured that when the time arrives to decide on the continuance or change in our fiscal, commercial and industrial policies the people of this country, in the future as in the past, will successfully and justly solve all the problems that may be presented."

Speaker Cannon said that the present depression in Wall street did not in any way represent the condition of the country. Values, he said, are just as good as ever and the country's resources are just as abundant.

When he took his place before the customs inspector to make his declaration the speaker said:

"Yes, I have a few articles to declare. Here is a necklace, rare, very rare. Its for my granddaughter and it cost 25 cents. Here is a collection of beads, also rare, costs 50 cents. I guess that lets me out."

TO CONSIDER TRUST PROBLEMS.

National Conference Will Be Held in Chicago in May.

New York, April 8.—The executive council of the National Civic federation has decided on Chicago as the place, and May 28, 29, 30 and 31 as the dates for holding the national conference on combinations and trusts which recently was announced by that organization. Representative men from the various walks of life have signed the invitations, which will be mailed Monday, asking the appointment of delegates by governors and presidents of the important commercial, manufacturing, agricultural, labor, economic, financial and law associations.

The purpose of the conference is to consider the trust and combination problems, especially the question of what amendment, if any, should be made to the Sherman anti-trust act.

Triple Crime by Jealous Negro.

Houston, Tex., April 8.—News was received here that Sonny Jones, a jealous negro, shot and mortally wounded his wife near Wharton late Saturday evening. He then killed her mother and Harry Higgins.

Madrid High Above the Sea.

Madrid lies higher than any other European capital. Its height above the sea is 2,000 feet.

OLD SORES FED AND KEPT OPEN BY IMPURE BLOOD

A great many people have an idea that old sores exist merely because of a diseased condition of the flesh where the ulcer is located. They patiently apply salves, powders, plasters and other external applications, but in spite of all such treatment the place refuses to heal. Whenever a sore or ulcer does not heal readily the blood is at fault; this vital fluid is filled with impurities and poisons which are constantly being discharged into the place, feeding it with noxious matter, which makes it impossible for the sore to heal. Old sores may be the result of an inherited blood taint, or the effects of a long spell of sickness, or again the circulation may be contaminated with the collections of refuse matter which the different members have failed to expel through the channels of nature. Whatever the cause the blood becomes steeped in poison and a cut, bruise, scratch or other wound often develops into a sore, fed and kept up by these impurities, causing it to eat deeper into the surrounding tissue, inflaming, festering, and causing pain. External applications can only keep the sore clean; they cannot cure the trouble because they do not reach the blood. S. S. S. cures Old Sores by going to the very bottom of the trouble, driving out the impurities and poisons and purifying and building up the entire circulation. When S. S. S. has removed the cause the blood becomes rich and healthy, the sore begins to heal, new flesh is formed, the place scabs over and is soon permanently healed. THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA.

TWO METHODS OF BUSINESS.

One: Conspicuous Success and the Other: A Complete Failure.

A few years ago the proprietor of a great steel file company in New England, which has several branch factories in various parts of America, altogether employing skilled workmen by the thousand, called at the office of a forwarding firm in New York, one of whose partners is a European, and asked that they suggest the proper way to introduce his files in Europe. This factory makes 7,000 varieties of files, and enjoys a great reputation throughout the mechanical world of America. The agent selected was a European, who had been Americanized, who believed in the virtues of the files he was to sell, and who was familiar with the great opportunities in industrial Europe. He went from one manufacturing town in the old world to another, and demonstrated the superior quality of the American implement, took similar European tools and filed right through them, to the astonishment of foreign mechanics and factory owners. Orders began to go to America by cable, says a writer in Appleton's Magazine. It was not long before one request reached New England from Germany for 100,000 dozen. A good salesman and superior goods had done the work. The salary of the agent was raised to $20,000 a year and expenses, and the American file today is flourishing the constructive work of every mechanical center in Europe. Contrast that masterful record with the flaccid of the American who speaks $2,000 to introduce corn medicine into Japan, only to discover that the multitudes of that empire wear no shoes and consequently have no corns.

A LAZY LIVER

May be only a tired liver, or a starved liver. It would be a stupid as well as savage thing to beat a weary or starved man because he lagged in his work. So in treating the lagging, torpid liver it is a great mistake to lash it with strong drastic drugs. A torpid liver is but an indication of an ill-nourished, enfeebled body whose organs are weary with over-work. Start with the stomach and allied organs of digestion and nutrition. Put them in working order and see how quickly your liver will become active. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has made many marvelous cures of "liver complaint," or torpid liver, by its wonderful control over the organs of digestion and nutrition. It restores the normal activity of the stomach, increases the secretions of the blood-making glands, cleanses the system of poisonous accumulations, and so relieves the liver of the burdens imposed upon it by the defection of other organs.

Symptoms. If you have bitter or bad taste in the morning, poor or variable appetite, coated tongue, foul breath, constipation or irregular bowels, feel easily tired, despondent, frequent headaches, pain or distress in "small of back," gnawing or distressed feeling in stomach, perhaps nausea, bitter or sour "rinsings" in throat after eating, and kindred symptoms of weak stomach and torpid liver, or biliousness; no medicine will relieve you more promptly or cure you more permanently than Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.

Perhaps only a part of the above symptoms will be present at one time, and yet point to torpid liver, or biliousness, and weak stomach. Avoid all hot breads and biscuits, griddle cakes and other indigestible food and take the "Golden Medical Discovery" regularly and stick to its use until you are vigorous and strong.

Of Golden Seal root, which is one of the prominent ingredients of "Golden Medical Discovery," Dr. Roberts Bartholow, of Jefferson Medical College, says: "Very useful as a stomachic (stomach) tonic and in atonic dyspepsia (indigestion), gastric (stomach) catarrh and headache accompanying same."

Dr. Grover Cox, of New York, says: "Hydrastis (Golden Seal root) exercises an especial influence over mucous surfaces. Upon the liver it acts with equal certainty and efficacy. As a cholagogue (liver invigorator) it has few equals." (Dr. Cox also advises it for affections of the spleen and other abdominal viscera generally, and for scrofulous and glandular diseases, cutaneous eruptions, indigestion, biliousness, chronic constipation, also in several affections peculiar to women, and in all chronic derangements of the liver, also for chronic inflammation of bladder, for which Dr. Cox says "it is one of the most reliable agents of cure.")

Prof. John King, M. D., late of Cincinnati, author of the AMERICAN DISPENSARY, gives it a prominent place among medicinal agents, reiterates all the foregoing writers have said about it. S. S. S. does also. Prof. John M. Scudder, M. D., late of Cincinnati, Dr. Scudder says: "It stimulates the digestive processes and increases the assimilation of food. By these means the blood is enriched.  the consequent improvement on the glandular and nervous systems are natural results." Dr. Scudder further says, "in relation to its general effect upon the system, there is no medicine in use about which there is such a general unanimity of opinion. It is universally regarded as the tonic, useful in all debilitated states."

REVIEW OF SPORT

President Roosevelt's Son a Crew Manager at Harvard.

GOTCH'S LATEST EASY MARK.

National Wrestling Champion Again Toys With Policeman Rooney of Chicago—New Sixty Foot Herreshoff Yachts For Eastern Millionaires.

Wrestling Champion Frank Gotch took another fall out of Copper John Rooney at the Chicago Athletic association show recently just by way of diversion. Rooney and Leo Pardello were originally billed for the windup, but the Italian side stepped the chance to meet his old enemy, and Gotch was substituted. The champion and policeman put up an interesting exhibition, but John was no more match for the big Iowan than he was at the Coliseum on a previous night and lasted only 13 minutes and 2 seconds.

Rooney fought hard, but never succeeded in getting anything that resembled a hold on the champion. He broke a number of Gotch's holds that looked good for a fall, but unwittingly once into Frank's famous toe lock. Once in the iron grip of the champion, John offered little resistance, and Frank pinned his shoulders to the mat with the utmost ease.

Rooney will probably never again tackle Gotch. What's the use?

It is assured that there is no chance for a representative British college crew to come to the United States this year. The matter has been seriously considered, and some of the leading young men have strongly advocated such a trip, but the effort has practically been abandoned. It is still hoped, however, that by another year it will be possible to have a four cornered arrangement between Oxford, Cambridge, Harvard and Yale by which the British and American winners may meet each year, the races alternating between the English and the New England Thames.

Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., has been appointed second assistant manager of the Harvard university crew by the university athletic committee. The appointment was made from a list of a dozen candidates, all of whom have been competing for the place since last October by activity in securing subscriptions for the crew and doing other work for the management.

If the usual order of succession in the crew management is followed, young Roosevelt will probably be assistant manager next year and manager in his senior year.

The athletic committee confirmed the appointment of Joshua Crane of Boston as head coach of the university football team and announced that Mr. Crane will succeed Coach Reid as the Harvard representative on the intercollegiate football rules committee.

The three sixty footers for Commodore Cornelius Vanderbilt of the New York Yacht club, Henry F. Lippitt and George M. Pynchon, named respectively Rainbow, Winsome and Istalena, at the Herreshoffs' in Bristol, R. I., which are smart looking craft with wide mid-sections and consequently plenty of deck and cabin room, are well along toward completion.

The feature of these new racing yachts is their composite building, steel frames and wood planking, which is adopted in four out of five of the larger craft, something unusual in the number of this makeup as compared with other seasons.

The lines of these boats, all of one design for the K class, are carried out finely by Designer Herreshoff, the draft being nearly a dozen feet, as shown in the Istalena. The boats have small trunk-cabins showing above the deck just forward of the cockpit, while the interior is roomy as compared with other racing craft of a similar class. The cabins are finely fitted up in the Istalena and Winsome, and plans are all carried out for lighting the cabins with gas. A tank rail two and one-half inches in height adds to the excellent deck arrangements.

Plans have been cast at Herreshoff for a mahogany constructed craft of about thirty feet on the water line, and the woodwork is being shaped out for construction.

It is seen, therefore, that this boat can be regarded as a possible candidate for the defense of the Canada cup.

BASEBALL TOPICS.

Mathewson Said to Be In Form Again. Hanlon's Recruits.

The baseball world in general is greatly interested in the news that Christy Mathewson, the once sensational twirler of the New York Nationals, has regained his old time pitching form.

Reports are all to the effect that the great Matty will now down opposing batsmen this year just as he did two and three years ago. Of course the newspaper scribes that are thus tipping off the public on Matty may be mistaken. Perhaps the stimulus of newborn budding, scintillating, effervescent spring has slightly unhinged their judgment. Perhaps, again, Matty's team manager, Johannes Mugsy McGraw, the man who never talks (when he's asleep), is a bit "off" in his predictions too. Then, again, perhaps they are all correct in their statements. If so, the fans will have a big feast of batsman slaughering this year.

Matty has done splendid work all through the spring and is evidently as strong as he ever was before the injections of antitoxin permeated his system and weakened him after an attack of a virulent fever.

Manager Ned Hanlon of the Cincinnati Reds has several likely recruits on his playing staff this year. He has almost an entire new team.

Presumably Hanlon has outgrown his one time fondness for veteran players. Among these new men are four of genuine major league caliber, judging from their past and present performances. They are Pitcher Del Mason, Outfielder Thomas, Mike Mitchell and Johnny Kane.

Del Mason was the best twirler of the Baltimore club last year. Outfielder Billy Thomas helped Youngstown win the championship of the Ohio-Pennsylvania league, which he led in batting. He is a brother of Roy Thomas of the Phillies. Mike Mitchell comes from the Portland team of the Pacific Coast league. He was the heaviest hitter on the coast last year. Johnny Kane is about the size of Miller Huggins, whom he is said to resemble in speed and intelligence. He has been signed as utility infielder, but can also do a clever stunt in the gardens.

More than 30,000 baseballs are used a season by the teams in the National Agreement leagues. The New York and Chicago teams of the National league each use in the neighborhood of sixty dozen balls a season for the home games, an average of nine balls a game for those scheduled on the home grounds. That seems like a good many balls, but there is plenty of use for them.

The two big leagues between them use 1,000 dozen balls a season. In the leading minor league organizations, such as the American association, Eastern, Southern and New York leagues, each club may use as many as thirty dozen balls, the clubs of the smaller leagues using about ten or fifteen dozen apiece.

A Holdover.

There's a skip of a curling team to Chicago whose name is Holthofer.

BOUND TO CATCH WRECKERS

PENNSYLVANIA ROAD OFFICIALS OFFER BIG REWARD.

Thoroughly Roused by Third Attempt to Derail Fast Trains—Many Officers After Miscreants.

Pittsburg, Pa., April 8.—A statement issued Sunday night from the headquarters of the Pennsylvania lines west says that company is making every effort to capture the person or persons who attempted to wreck train No. 322 on the Cleveland & Pittsburg division near Hudson, O., Saturday night and for whose arrest a reward of $2,500 has been offered, with an additional $2,500 if they are taken within the next 24 hours.

The sheriffs of Summit, Portage and Cuyahoga counties, with their deputies and the chief of police of Cleveland, are exerting every effort to find some trace of the wreckers. No arrests have been made.

While the search is in progress officials of the railroad have been making a rigid investigation into the derailment. Sunday a test was made to discover how long it would take a man familiar with track work to arrange the rails so as to throw a train off the track. The conditions under which the wreckers or wreckers worked were duplicated as nearly as possible and the test showed that one man, working rapidly, could draw the spikes, remove the fish plates and bend the rail inward, securing it in that position, in about five minutes. The test was made in daylight, however, and the investigation shows that the wreckers worked in the dark, so that it would probably have taken a longer time to complete the task.

Officials of the Pennsylvania railroad are thoroughly aroused at the third attempt to wreck fast trains and stated Sunday night that absolutely everything that money could accomplish was being done to effect the capture and punishment of the wreckers.

MAY GO LIKE JOHNSTOWN.

United States Engineer Says Pittsburg Is in Great Peril.

Pittsburg, Pa., April 8.—J. W. Arras, of the United States engineering corps, who has charge of building the dams in the Ohio and Allegheny rivers in this vicinity, has submitted a report to the government, made public Sunday night, in connection with the recent flood here, in which he says Pittsburg, like Johnstown, is in danger of devastation some day by a flood causing the loss of thousands of lives and millions of dollars' worth of property. Mr. Arras says that when the catastrophe occurs it will come with just as little warning as did the one in the Conemaugh valley. A part of Mr. Arras' report follows:

"In the March freshet the Monongahela river predominated, and consequently the Allegheny was less turbulent and its velocity comparatively light. Furthermore, the natural rise in the latter being small, there was little drift. Accordingly the action of the ice against the submerged portions of bridges was much subdued, and in the absence of drift and wreckage—the greatest gorge producers—it passed under without doing much harm."

"But these conditions can be reversed, and in the event of the Allegheny predominating doubtless would be, whence the probability that enormous gorges of drift, or drift and ice combined, would form above the low wooden bridges. In such case they would move off their foundations and the entire mass rush everything in its way until it reaches the first stable structure, namely the Pennsylvania railroad bridge at Eleventh street."

"Would it withstand the attack? No man can tell. It is a ponderous structure, splendidly proportioned and substantially built. However, what it will do seems immaterial, for whether it stands and holds the gorge or falls before it, it will in either case divert the irresistible oncoming tide toward the mainland where the damage to physical property will be enormous and lives by the thousands will be sacrificed, since there would be insufficient warning to enable the unsuspecting to withdraw to places of safety."

Policy Holders' Committee Says the Ballots Were Forged.

New York, April 8.—Charging the use of forged ballots and fictitious names to the administration of both the New York Life and the Mutual Life Insurance companies and collusion to inspectors in the employ of the state insurance department, the international policy holders' committee has declared its intention to institute legal proceedings to set aside the election last fall and to secure the conviction in criminal proceedings of all officers and agents said to be involved in the procurement of unlawful ballots.

HARNESS OUTLOOK.

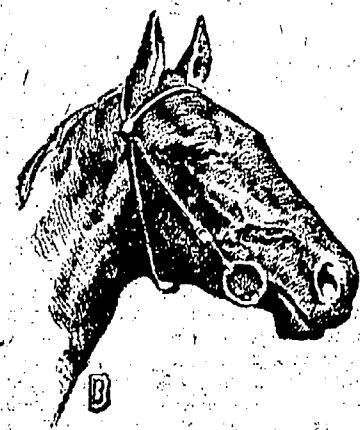

Four Hundred Race Meetings Have Been Announced to Date.

SLUMP IN NEW ENGLAND.

Every Other Section of Country, However, Has Promising Prospects For the Trotting and Pacing Sharps West, South and East.

Available reports show that 400 trotting and pacing meetings for the season of 1907 have already been announced or have claimed dates. This number includes only the races which will be held from early in June to November by the members of the many racing circuits already organized. The independent meetings and those in connection with the numerous county agricultural fairs are not included.

The prospects are bright enough even thus early to convince interested horse-

Vance Nuckols will race the trotting stallion Kenneth Mac, 2:24 1/4, by Bobby Burns, down the grand circuit and will also start the trotting gelding Jay Kay, 2:16 1/4, by Jay Bird, and the pacing mare Cleo S., 2:09 1/4.

men that the loss of the citizens and breeders of New England and other states, who have been made the victims of adverse legislation, will be the gain of others whose privileges are protected by their lawmakers.

With the increased number of race meetings, campaigning material also will be in abundance, thus assuring large entry lists in all of the organized racing circuits.

Reports from nearly all prominent training centers show that a larger number of horses will be prepared for the season's sport than in any of the very best years. Three of the best southern training tracks are already filled with several of the most noted racing stables, such as Billings Park, Memphis, Lexington and the Driving Park track at Macon, Ga., all of which contain not only many horses, but of the very best quality.

This early training work in the south has compelled the northern trainers to begin work earlier than usual, and we hear from all sections that prospective campaigners are receiving daily work on the available roads of their neighborhood.

Reports from tracks east and west which for years have been favorites for training purposes show that their stalls and barns will be filled to overflowing.

The Glenville track at Cleveland already shelters hundreds of horses and will be filled to its full capacity when the strings now at their homes or in the south return north. The same is true of the Readville track, over which some of the coming champions of the year will receive their early as well as final preparations.

The Columbus (O.) track, next in importance, is already getting its share of trainers, many being there now and more going to that point weekly. The expectations are that this track will also be a very busy place up to the time when the bell rings for the first contests.

With Knapsack McCarthy at Terre Haute and many others now there, this favorite training oval will present a lively appearance for the next few months. For many years racing men have watched with interest the doings over the "four cornered" track in the Indiana town, and there is enough high class racing material there right now to excite a lively interest.

In a short time the horse-public will know the exact amount to be offered by the track managers, and there appears no doubt that this too, will be a record breaker.

In its most essential points, therefore, a great harness racing season is assured for the year 1907, to the entire satisfaction of all interested in the breeding and racing of the trotter.

Georgetown Rowing.

It is settled that Georgetown university is to have a crew at the intercollegiate rowing regatta at Poughkeepsie, N. Y., in June. There has been much talk of late that the crew would not be represented on the Hudson this year. The question has been set at rest, however, by the university's rowing authorities ordering a new eight oared shell, and a New York builder has received the contract. The ordering of the boat, coupled with the fact that Georgetown candidates are hard at work, settles any doubts as to the university being one of the six colleges in Poughkeepsie's big annual.

GUARDING A GREAT HEIRESS.

Unfortunate Girl of Wealth Never Allowed Out Alone.

They do say that an American heiress of well known name is never by any chance allowed out of sight of one or more responsible persons, who act in the capacity of a body guard or secret service men. The luckless girl can never move outside the domicile for a run in the park or a trip down the avenue or pay a visit to another girl unless accompanied, not merely chaperoned. Chaperones do not count nowadays. And wherefore these precautions? Simply because mademoiselle is such an heiress she is a quarry for fortune hunters and a recognized class of conspirators who stick at nothing in their social brigandage! Formerly it was the detrimental whom mamma feared; now it is, a much bolder schemer that may swoop down any moment and carry off the dove of millions. Finny, is it not that such a state of things should have developed in America?—Boston Herald.

Laughter the Best Tonic.

Laughter is a good, healthy, muscle-making, lung-developing exercise, and it is as good for girls as boys. And humor can be cultivated in a girl's mind without any abatement of the dignity and modesty and charm of her womanhood. Not the unpleasant and constant frivolity evidenced in "smart" speech or quickness of repartee, but the humor that looks at the world with a twinkle in the eye and sees its absurdities, its smallness and its fun, says a writer. It should be part of every woman's mental equipment, for women are called upon to bear so many of life's small worries as well as its greater ones. The bringing up of children, the care of servants, and the many social duties that become a burden, are all made easy and possible to put up with by the woman with an unflinching sense of humor and of the bright side of life.

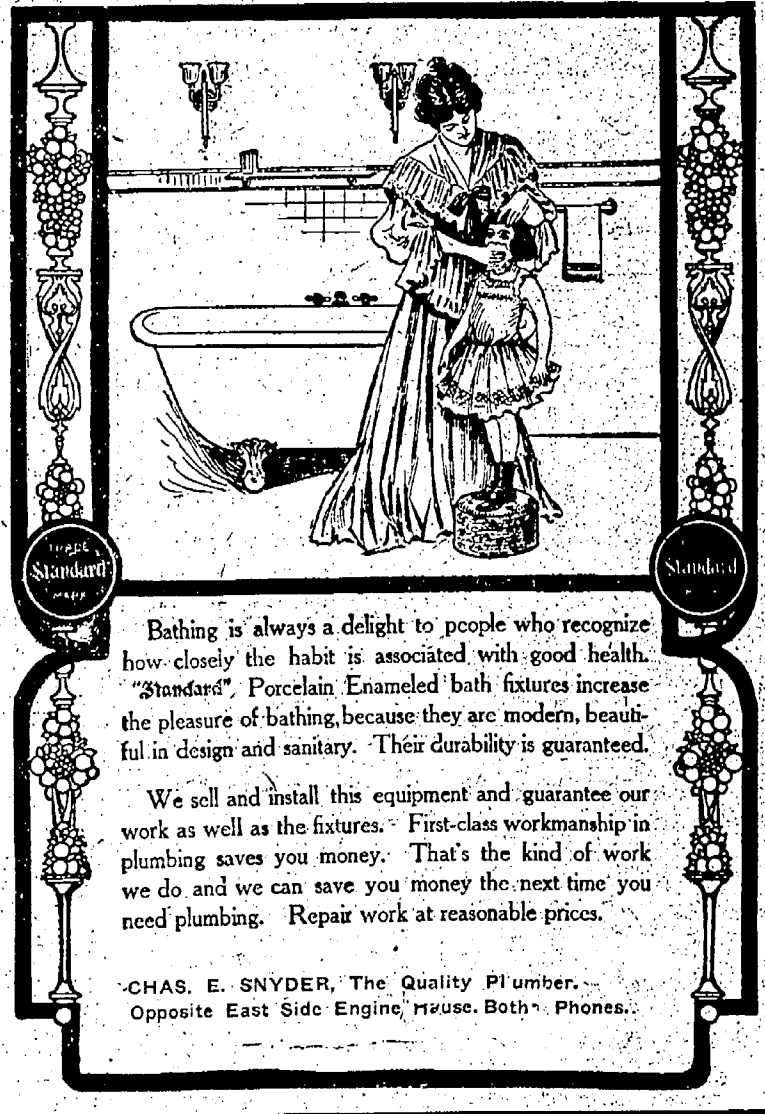

To Encourage Thrift.

A New York man has just patented a device for the encouragement of thrift. It consists of a toy savings bank with a clock attachment. The clock is set in the face of the bank and cannot be wound unless a dime is dropped in the slot. As winding causes the dime to fall into the vault and the clock will run but 24 hours without rewinding the contrivance assures an accumulation of 70 cents a week. The theory is that the necessity of depositing a dime every day will lead to slipping in other coins at odd moments and thus establish a habit of saving.
